Equality, Liberty and Ground Realities

A one-day state level seminar on Equality liberty and Ground Realities was organized by department of Political Science on 29th December 2016. The seminar was formally inaugurated by Honorable Shamrao Ugale Sub-editor of the Sakal and the Key - Note address was given by Professor D. S. Waghmare former Head of the Political Science Department, Dr Babasaheb Ambedkar Marathwada University, Aurangabad. The inaugural session was presided over by Honorable P. P. Dhatriak the Vice President of the institution. India become independent in 1947, but during their seventy years rift between the rich and the poor, the backward and the privileged has not been bridged. In fact, it has been noticed that the backward classes the poor and the weak suffer from persecution and oppression in society. Liberty and equality have not been established in true sense of the term. India has become free and the constitution has come into force. We are the largest democracy in the world, but fundamental rights of the common people are still far away from them. They are unable to enjoy their fundamental rights.

About 100 participants were present at the seminar. Teacher's scholars, researchers and students actively participated in the discussions. A Souvenir containing 23 articles was for formally released at the seminar.

The valedictory session was chaired by Honorable P. P. Dhatriak and the main speaker was Honorable Dr. S. J. Shakir, from Dr. Babasaheb Ambedkar Marathwada University, Aurangabad. Dr. Prahlad Dudhane, Head took efforts in making the seminar a great success. Dr. Vasant Wagh the Principal extended his valuable guidance from time to time.

The seminar proved to be successful and it will be definitely help students and researchers to have a new Insight.

ABOUT THE CONFERENCE :

Seventy years have passed since India became independent. But, the majority of our society are still deprived of true liberty and equality. The backward classes have remained poor and under privileged even after so many years of self-rule. Women have been denied freedom by our male-dominated society and they are not given equal treatment as men. As a result, their overall development has not come true. The evils like Poverty, unemployment, injustice and maltreatment still prevail in our society. These social problems lead to denial of freedom and unequal treatment to socially and economically under privileged classes. We, through this seminar, would like to raise these issues and invite experts to suggest and recommend remedies to these social evils.

We hope that students, academicians, research scholars and all participants will be benefited by the deliberation in the seminar.
